Bolgheri, located in Tianjin, we are a professional manufacturer for column radiators, designer radiators, tubular radiators and heated towel rails since 2002. As one of the largest designer radiator factory and fast growing company in China, we have many years' experience supplying good quality heating radiators to both domestic and international market. At present our products are mainly exported to UK, Spain, Russian, Ukraine and other European countries. All the production processes such as cutting, machining, welding, polishing and coating are strictly controlled by reliable procedures, precise equipments and trained staff under ISO9001. All the products are fully tested during different processes and before release. Radiator colors can be customized according to your RAL requirement and strong carton boxes with plastic or foam corners are used for protection. We offer a five-year manufacture guarantee for our goods and orders normally will be finished within 30 days. Bear in mind heating radiators are not just devices for heating your home or office, they should be an integral part of your interior design plans. Our experienced R&D team develop at least 5 new designer products per year. In addition to our extensive range of standard products shown in this brochure, we pride ourselves on the growing number of companies who use commitment to customer loyalty and product quality to develop their own ranges of OEM products. We are aware our commitment to partnership with our customers has been the reason for our success in the past and will help us and our customers grow ongoing. We are also committed to our social accountability and environmental responsibility (ISO45001 and ISO14001 certified) whilst our company keeps growing. Welcome you and your company join to our growing list of satisfied customers.
